

I'm a subscriber to a satellite radio service and I oppose an attempt to limit programming options to listeners of this service. I should not be penalized because I choose to buy this service and I want all of the programming that I pay for (news, weather, traffic etc). Broadcast media can offer all of the programming that it can make profitable (in an economic sense) but should not limit other media outlets from offering programming.